

the President's Commission on the Assassination of President John F. Kennedy. The Commission was created by the President's Executive Order on October 26, 1963. The Commission was composed of seven members, including the President's Attorney General, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and the Vice President. The Commission was charged with the task of investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and reporting its findings to the President. The Commission's report was released on September 24, 1964. The report concluded that the assassination of President John F. Kennedy was the result of a conspiracy involving several individuals, including Lee Harvey Oswald, who was the assassin.
The report also concluded that the Commission was unable to determine whether or not the assassination was part of a larger conspiracy involving the government or other groups. The report was widely criticized for its lack of detail and its failure to provide a clear answer to the question of whether or not the assassination was part of a larger conspiracy.
