BRITISH FUND FOR WARSAW

(UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE POLISH RELIEF FUND)

People all over the country are asking "How can we do something for WARSAW?"

With the sympathy and support of the Foreign Office, the British Fund for Warsaw has been started to meet this demand of the British people to help the people of Warsaw.

We want to show our admiration for them and our sympathy with the sufferings of the survivors of that tragic city.

WARSAW was once a city of over a million people. What is it to-day?

While other cities are being liberated, Warsaw is deserted—an empty shell.

Polish authorities tell us 280,000 people were killed in the final battle for WARSAW, which ended only when the last round of ammunition was fired, on October 2nd.

The survivors—men, women and children—are herded in camps near WARSAW.

They are destitute—without the bare necessities of life—without hope.

Unless they are to die of hunger, cold, and disease, they must have food, clothes and medical supplies.

WE know what it is to be bombed and homeless.

Can we imagine the plight of these people of WARSAW?

We have never been without hope.

Will you show them that British people care?

YOU CAN if you will send a donation to the
