Pioneer Village A Glimpse Into Our Past

Modern dolls talk, walk, sleep, cry and require nearly all the attentions of living babies. But pioneer children lavished their love on crude dolls made from materials at hand — corn cobs and husks. Many prairie tots never saw a "store-bought" doll.

No toy in history captured the imagination of a country as the "Teddy Bear", originated in 1902 and named for President Theodore Roosevelt, a famous hunter.

HUNTER OR—HUNTED?

When a hunter stops to rest, it's easy for him to forget his gun is cocked, ready to shoot. "Break" the gun, open the action—and it can't fire accidentally.

Not every cracking noise or shadowy silhouette promises an 8-point buck. Know your partner's location and look before you shoot to make sure it's not another hunter in your sights.
