Zephyrs Drop 4 From Roster

The axe fell for the first time at the Chicago Zephyrs training camp at Burlington, Wisconsin Sunday. Coach Jack McMahon, the new floor boss of the Chicago NBA entry whittled four players from the large roster after the final drill Saturday afternoon.

Tom Kennedy, the slender star from Lewis College was let go, but reluctantly, Kennedy, a good basketball player was just too light for the rugged pro competition. The fourth was the rookie obtained from New York in the Gene Conley-Phil Jordan deal, Cliff Luyk of Florida.

NOWELL IMPRESSES

In the first week's work, devoted to a great deal of conditioning and basketball fundamentals, Mel Nowell of Ohio State, the Zephyrs' ninth draft choice was the first year man who impressed the most. Nowell is especially fast and has all the abilities to become a good playmaker and floor leader.
